Dear Mr. Swann:

As a recent, and most enthusiastic, fan of your addictive viewer call-ins, I write rather than risk hyperventi-lating which would surely result if I tried to phont in this comment.

Re: limitation of-terens of office of Congressman,

I think the point should be made that the constant exposure to huge sums of money in discussions of foreign aid, entitlements, social programs and so on - tends to remove our elected officials from the majority of the People, makes them elitists and not what we hoped for in a government "by the People".

-3-

I don't believe, either, that this is a partisan issue, popularized by say Republicans who are in the minority, as "casting over the Rascals" does not preclude the possibility of voting for a new Representative of either persuasion!
Also - if such a limiting measure went into effect, a staggered placement could be used.

And finally, what's wrong anyway with "Amateurs" being brought in? They were all amateurs once.

And the voters are not going to send someone to Washington who is without qualifications of some sort. Maybe something like Common Sense. I love your shows. All the best.

Sincerely,

(Mrs [redacted])
