Dear Brian Lamb:

I watch you with interest day after day, with special appreciation for your Booknotes program.

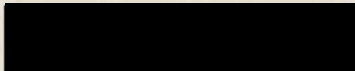

Just an observation. I see the television press becoming more and more anti-Clinton, and their influence on citizens is enormous. The reason seems transparent--their high salaries will be touched by his tax program and they don't like it. I saw Sam Donaldson come very close to admitting this on the David Brinkley show.

I listen to what Bill Clinton has to say and watch what he is doing. I believe that he and Hillary have the best interests of American citizens at heart and are working their hearts out to change this country for the better.

I also believe that there is a limited amount of money in the pot and it just goes around and around. People at the top, including the press, are keeping too much. We need to cut the press staff by about 75%, and let our legislators go about the business of governing.

Keep up the good work. C-Span needs to stay.

Sincerely,
