Dear Brian Lamb,

I've been a faithful listener of C-Span since its beginning.

Your programs are interesting as well as stimulating. I enjoy the Tri. Round Table & Booknotes very much, as I love to read, and am very interested in politics.

I was 84 yesterday, and am shocked as well as dismayed by the mean spirited discussions, debates etc. so prominent to-day.

Your Round table Tri. was interesting to me especially the remarks about Rush Limbaugh and the rumors he spread about the First Family.

I almost shouted at the screen

Where, oh, where is Edward R. Murrow at a time like this? I recall vividly his confrontation with Sen. McCarthy and his cry "Shame Shame". I only wish we had a new person with as much courage as he had. This daily "feeding frenzy" by the press, and TV, over the Clintons so called misdeemeanors. It's demeaning to watch the press lower its self to daily snips & snaps. I always have had great respect for the press and its freedom. They always seemed like giants. Now they are almost in the same category as the tabloids.

Sadly TV news is strangely like the offerings in the check-out lanes at the grocery.

I've lived a long time and see my country slowly going downhill, and the press & TV keeps giving it a push.

Why not something uplifting so that our grandchildren can look back with a sense of pride.

I'm not blaming you as I consider your programs above average. I'd like to see you spearhead a rejuvenation of spirit among our citizens - that of "do unto others" -

Sincerely
