Dear CSPAN,

Recently some friends and I have decided to begin an unusual project. We've decided to start collecting reforms as a sort of hobby. That's right, reforms. We've decided to write to any and all sorts of organizations promoting some reform or other and, as a matter of curiosity, attempt to discern just how many of these reforms are mutually exclusive and how many aren't.

With this in mind we would like to make an unusual request of you. We would like to have a schedule of that part of your programming over the last year indicating guests you have had who are promoting some kind of reform agenda. We naturally would like to have their addresses as well, so that we can write to them. We recognize that this is probably a tall order, that you are an organization staffed with very busy people who have better things to do than collaborate in our quixotic scheme, so our request is conditional upon your having easy access to the information we are requesting. If it is no trouble for you to send it to us, then we will be very grateful to receive it.

For that matter, we would like to hear anything you may wish to say about needed reforms in your own industry. FCC regulations? First Amendment stuff? Whatever is important to you. Perhaps you can refer us to some literature. A news letter.

Thanks in advance for humoring us.

Sincerely,

Leander, TX 78641-8755
