Dear Mr. Lamb,

My husband and I wish to compliment you on your C-Span program. We have recently retired and were pleasantly surprised at the intelligence displayed on your show. We have never been fans of television and fortunately we received cable in our neighborhood about the time we retired.

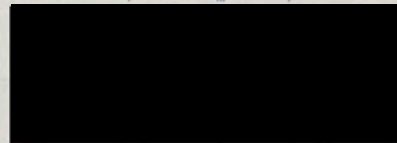

Your entire on-air staff should be complimented on their outstanding patience with some of the guests. A few, maybe more, seem to have their own agenda and do not directly answer the questions posed by the telephone caller. But I suppose that is why they agree to appear on television.

We voted for President Bush and could not understand how anyone could not see through Governor Clinton. What he announced during the campaign was clearly appealing to the majority in spite of the fact he must have known his promises were clearly unattainable politically.

I am particularly incensed about the terrible tragedy in Waco, Texas. The FBI had all the time in the world and to go in and cause the deaths of 17 children is inexcusable. And I am very annoyed with the attitudes of the President and Attorney-General. Children were killed and they seem to be more focused on how it will affect them politically. The joke going around now is "to clear up the Bosnia-Serbean problem, put Janet Reno in charge, she will blow them all up."

In closing I wish to thank you again and if it was not for your program and some (not all) PBS Mystery series shows we would not look at television at all.

Thank you again,
