

Clinton Basher Time Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — C-SPAN, the Cable Satellite Public Affairs Network, has instituted its own fairness doctrine to make sure opponents of President Clinton cannot dominate call-in shows.

Because the anti-Clinton callers were jamming the phone lines by a margin of 5-1, C-SPAN chairman and on-air personality Brian Lamb ordered a realignment of three existing telephone lines.

"We always had separate telephone lines, divided by region — eastern, central and western," his assistant, Lea Anne Long, said Monday. "We experimented separating the lines by Democrats, Republicans or other."

Now, on-air calls will be alternated between pro-Clinton, anti-Clinton and other.

"All we are trying to achieve is balance and getting as many different points of view as we can," she said. "The reasoning is to try to get more different voices."
