To Whom It May Concern:

I watch C Span because it uniquely satisfied my unending curiosity about the ideas, opinions and actions that shape the country in which we live, the world we share, the cosmos in which we exist. Gone are the days of frustration at not being able to keep up or comment on current events, or not hearing the pertinent follow-up question to the issue at hand!

I am privy to the most sobering of thoughts and the most delightful of perspectives - even including political satire in song and dance followed by a "witless genius" to provoke while entertaining! The formats, both formal and informal, let me gleam for myself the ways in which the respective worlds turn - labor, industry, business, the executive, legislative, judicial, scientific, social etc. - I am delighted by the fact that I can experience the true benefits of television and simply overjoyed by the fact that so many other people share my feelings!

The only thing better is being there - and I hope to win this contest to do just that!

Sincerely,
