Sirs: I want to express my delight and appreciation that I may now listen to the BBC over the "sub-audio" of E Span via Satellites. I have struggled for years with antennae trying to get decent reception. I have only one problem - at times the sound is very poor - in fact so bad I cannot listen - a great deal of hiss. I have spoken with the satellite receiver manufacturer, the installer, and made every adjustment conceivable to me. Do you have any suggestions. The audio on all other channels is excellent. Thank,

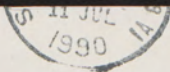

P.S. I live at a high altitude 6500 feet - reception worse as day
