

Dear Mr. Lamb,

I guess I am what is commonly known as a C-SPAN junkie. I have been off work since mid-August due to a broken heel.

I have had a lot of time to watch C-SPAN and think of what I'd like to see. One idea that came to me while watching all the polititions trek through your studios is, that I would like to see a call-in show without polititions. The host must have a political slant, but the idea would be to hear the american public's views without getting cut off so quickly, so a person could have a couple minutes of discussion, like I say, without a politition. For sure they would be listening.

I think some of americas problems could be solved by the american people, if given a chance.

I believe a show like this would be very good during congressional breaks, and during debates that are as controversial as NAFTA is. Even very late at night people would be calling in.

Thanks for your time.
