I appreciate your reply to my inquiry re air times for "Road

To The White House". However, with respect I think you are missing my point.

Trying to make

Presidential

more important
the British

on Sun eve

Prime time too everyone can see "Road To The White House"

7:00 eve. Therefore, it makes more sense to air it on prime time Sun eve. All bet many viewers aren't even that interested in the British House of Commons. Also I never see
"Road To The White House" any other time on the weekend schedule.

I think you should take a serious look at CSPAN's priorities.
If you took a poll all bet →

Dear Ms Hunter,

005576 DEC 23 91

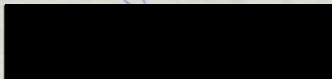

I appreciate your reply to my inquiry re air times for "Road To The White House". However, with all due respect I think you are missing my point.

The point I am trying to make is the upcoming Presidential campaign is much more important than Booknotes & The British House of Commons on Sun eve Prime time. Not everyone can see "Road To The White House" Fri eve. Therefore, it makes more sense to air it on prime time Sun eve. All bet many viewers aren't even that interested in the British House of Commons. Also I never see "Road To The White House" any other time on the weekend schedule.

I think you should take a serious look at CSPAN's priorities. If you took a poll I'll bet →

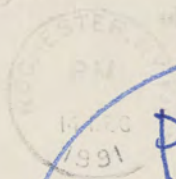

100-574-270200
a majority of viewers would agree with me. Do you want the public to be as informed as possible or make another serious error in the '92 Pres. election?
Help the public out. Give this much needed exposure of the candidates at a reasonable hour on Sun.

Thank You
