

NONE OF THIS PROBLEM WITH THE
PRESIDENT WOULD HAVE HAPPEN - IF THE
SUPREME COURT MADE PAULA JONES SUIT
WAIT UNTIL AFTER PRESIDENT CLINTON LEFT OFFICE.
THE SUPREME COURT NOT ONLY LET THE
PRESIDENT DOWN, BUT I BELIEVE THEY LET
THE AMERICAN PEOPLE (COUNTRY) DOWN ALSO,
BY THEIR Ruling!

Thank You

This problem with Paula Jones filing suit against President Clinton and now before the Supreme Court is no joking matter. Consider if you will that a sitting President, any President, Democrat or Republican, with the burdens of world problems on his or her shoulders - small things like helping feed the world's starving people or giving orders to push the button and destroy an entire country because that country had just sponsored a terrorist group that blew up an American city with a small nuclear bomb - carried in a truck - or other trivial things like one of our space probes just arrived back from a distant star with soil samples that prove to kill off 90% of diseases that plague mankind. When all of a sudden some person (for whatever motive - political or otherwise) demands that the President of the United States must drop everything and appear in civil court to defend him or her self of charges - which may or may not have occurred - long before that person became President. Then when that case is finally resolved, the American Civil Liberties Union hauls the President into court for violating someone's rights back in the "60's" and then when that case is resolved, the American Communists Party takes the President to civil court because he or she made a speech that Communism doesn't work and 3/4 of their membership quit, and on and on ad infinitum - if you get my drift.

The point I'm trying to make is any President, now or in the future, should not be subjected to any court action while sitting as President of the United States - this position is just too complex and valuable - that any constant court challenges would actually jeopardize our national security. Only rare, serious crimes committed by a President - such as murder, etc., should not be exempt from punishment and these crimes must occur while the President's in office. He should not be prosecuted or charged for something that may have happened long before that person becomes President. The Supreme Court and Congress must recognize how important it is to have a sitting President free of all outside lawsuits and court challenges that have nothing to do with running the government.

Our whole world becomes more complex and problematic with every passing year - that all Presidents, now and in the future, must be free of trivial matters and devote all their time and energy to making this world a better place for all human beings and especially - always be watchful of our national security.

Respectfully yours,
