Mr. Brian Lamb

C-Span

Dear Mr. Lamb:

I am and continue to be a real supporter of C-Span, unlike most channels are so biased.

However, I do have a suggestion. I feel on your round table discussions, the reporters, etc. should take less time arguing with each other, and just answer or respond to people's questions. You put the numbers up to call, but as most people say "I have been trying for weeks even months to get on." I have tried myself to no avail, so have given up. I sincerely feel you should give the callers more chance - and stop the arguing between reporters, etc. whom you invite. They always have different views, so give the people more chance, either that or stop it completely. It is very frustrating. Some of the callers that get thru are just stupid, ^{but} the majority do have good messages + food for thought.

O.W.J

Yours very truly
