I am interested in receiving a draft from the February 9th interview with Former Secretary of the Navy, James Webb.

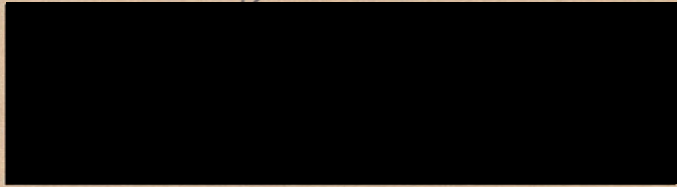

I was only able to hear the last part of the program. But what I did hear was important enough for me, as a military family member to write and request this particular draft.

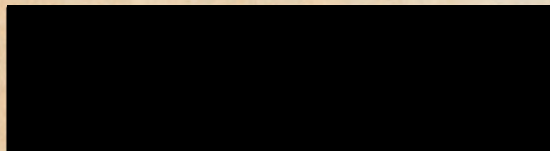

I support our troops, but not this complicated war. I wonder how long it will take for the American public to realize that there might have been other options. The Middle East is a time bomb in itself.

If there is a charge for the draft please let me know.
