Dear Mr. Lamb,

Recently I was given the opportunity to take part in the Close-Up program. Of the many interesting events in my life this excursion ranks with the best. It was the first time for me to visit Washington. The sites were incredible. However, the main focus of the trip was not for me to see sites. The main focus was for me to learn more about the workings of our government, our society, and our global community. The program greatly enriched my knowledge of all these aspects. Seminars from different departments shed light on their role in the government. While in workshops I was able to hear the views of people from across the country and even the world. Lastly, in my room assignment I was chosen to room with two students from Swaziland Africa. After recovering from the initial shock of rooming with someone who lives on a totally different continent I was able to successfully interact with the two and form a friendship. I learned of the troubles of Africa and attempted to explain some of the events in our country. All in all the trip was an immense success and I hope to return next year. I would like to thank you for giving me the opportunity to take part in this fulfilling program.

Sincerely,
