Dear Mr. Lamb,

a couple of Saturday's ago, I just happened to turn on C-SPAN which I hadn't been able to watch in a while and I caught the introduction by a priest of a guest speaker at Holy Cross Colledge in Massachusetts.

At first I didn't know who he was introducing but then he mentioned it was Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas who's one of my heroes and I decided to stay with C_SPAN for the duration of his speech and the questions and answers that followed.

I was not disappointed in any way. Clarence Thomas gave a riveting speech even though he is clearly not a speaker who has a great style.

I hope you will air his speech many times for I think what he had to say was very important and I hope you will someday interview him one on one. More people need to hear and see more of him.

Thank you for airing his speech. I'm glad I was able to see it.

Sincerely,
