Dear Sirs:

Thank you so much for your series "American Presidents". It is wonderful. I want to request some information from you but first I wanted to tell you why this has meant ^{so much} to my family.

My husband, [REDACTED] retired several years ago with no particular hobby to interest him. On a trip we accidentally happened upon the Eisenhower home + museum in Abilene, Kansas + Truman in Independence, Mo. We loved it + became hooked on it as a favorite past-time and have since planned our trips to include these sites. Thus far we have seen homes + museum of 15 Presidents plus the "White House" and plan to continue. We have enjoyed seeing on your program the tours we have already been on + where we intend to go. We have learned history + facts that we have either forgotten or were never taught in school plus all the interesting trivia we have picked up. We have 6 grandchildren ages 17 yrs to 2 yrs +

I wanted them to have access to this wonderful history you are providing for us, so I decided to record each week on 6 hr. tapes to create me a complete set of this series.

"My Question is"

I did not know about this until we had missed George Washington's episode. and we may have power outtages here, like last week and if so I need to know how to obtain those I have or may miss. Can they be purchased? And if so where and how much do they cost? Do you plan to re-run any of them and if so a list of schedule dates? I am enclosing a stamped + addressed envelope for your reply which I am eagerly awaiting.

Again thank you so much.
