Mr Lamb -

Perhaps this could be a letter written to any future President in the next generation.

In a old man is his Seventy Plus years - I've lived my life - the biggest surprise in life, is the shortest of life - IN youth there is always hope of a better tomorrow - now tomorrows are once was and no longer is - (forgive ^{me} for the bad English) - youth today doesn't have the hope we once had when I was a youth - even the [redacted] There was always hope of a better tomorrow - this nation had a strong character that demanded respect and got it. this youth grew up - The bomb, drugs, smoking - corrupt, sleazy government - booze, now a war against the people called drug war - The commander-in-chief is not leading - too busy kicking the boots of the murdering Chinese leaders - with thirty-seven suck-ass Senators. Keep up the good works on your program and please forgive a old man - for rambling -
