Things are finally looking up.
By next Tuesday I will have cable via ~~enter~~ ^{enter} Multimedia - They said 2 months ago I was 275' from their cable.
Would cost $1000 for me to be connected.
There was cable next door only 10 feet away - I continued to request study - They continued to pay ~~pay~~ ^{$}1000 or I was 275' away - I could not determine if they were trying for a $1000 rip off or if they did not have an Engr that could report the facts - Last Wednesday they finally

Admitted that the 275 feet was in error - That next Tuesday 16 Mar 99 that an Engr would come wire my house for cables I told them there are two cable outlets in each room already for your service - They said you will have to pay $29.00 for the trip to wire your house (that is already wired) and you will have to pay for each outlet made that $15.00 for each outlet - Since cable is the best way to have all TVs free to choose the program (Grand kids, sports, Disney, a span) none of the best TV or Prime Star could offer flexible viewing without multiple receivers so the rip off by Intermedia will be tolerated then documented as the year develops - I still believe that Cable will win out - AT&T seems to think so as they now are buying Intermedia -

thanks for your letter - As I write this, Direct TV is offering 3 months free - This would pay for some of the extra cost - I will probably get the cable connected and continue to study the advantages and disadvantages of wireless vs Cable - I know I have had two months of the poorest TV the net works here have the weakest programming - They take the police blotter and the hospital admittance sheets and spend an entire hour - The worst side of a community that has so many good things happening - One pastime Vanderbilt Medical Service a Dr. Jim Gray and his people solved my blood clot problem in less than a month - at 76

I now plan to open an office and finish some jobs I started here in the 1980s.

Looking forward to a good week next week to get back on my old schedule - C Span, ^{Wash} Journal Book notes - Early Road to the Whitehouse - I have my favorites but for now will allow the field to be named then take some of my interests to those who will probably win - The way our defense has been weakened is my one worry - Noted that a spy has been chosen to take the fall for our treatment of China I fully believe our problem of a spy is right in the White House - Burger and some of his staff.

Keep up the good work - C Span has made many charge their ways - I know you catch a lot of complaints for the way you expose their bias - Sincerely
