

Gentlemen:

I'd like to compliment you for some great debates, the one on Term Limits, with Father Drinan, Prof. of Law at Georgetown, and ex Rep., with the lady lawyer from the Wash. Institution dealing with legal concepts of the law, , and the young man from Insight.

The one on Gays in the Military with retired Lt. Col. Chuck Magness u. s. army, and Lt. Col. retired and now Journalist, Military Correspondent (Marine) for Chicago Sun times, Wash. Bureau, David Clark was excellent, what was so good about it, was that you had an actual retired officer of some thirty (30) years service, and there were many good points made Pro and Con, on both sides, the only complaint is Mr. Magness tended to go on too long, I suspect he may be a Lawyer, and in the beginning they were allowed to go on a little too long, before Mr. Anderson began taking calls.

I resent your inter-view with Supreme Capitalist General, H. Norman Schwarzkopf, and it is sickening to me the way the media fawns all over him, including Barbara Wawa, I realize on 'Booknotes' you have to interview these authors, your question on the 'Dancing Girls' was stupid, which he gave his usual cute un-assuming answer, and I think you could have picked a better question than that to have asked him. Other Generals have written books after Wars such as Pres Eisenhower,

Gen. Bradley, I believe but did they push them to the center of capitalism, going around on tour, lecture circuit with body guards, TV appearances, etc. anything to push the book

The recent inter-view with the Press Secretaries Walt Riker for Sen. Bob Dole R-Kan., Doug Dreier, for house Majority Whip Gephardt D-mo, and Patricia Lieberman, for Sen. Jos. Biden D-Del., was interesting, but Ms. Kathy Buckley, let them talk a little too long, before going to the phones.

day in the life of Rep. Elect
I'd wish you give up on the Marjorie Margolies Shoemaker I suspect a lot of her posturing and all good intentions is for the camera, and being media people, and familiar with her, you let her go on I had enough when she told Bruce Collins who looked like he was 'infatuated' with her, she kept her maiden name, because her Father would want her to do it, and would be so proud, which is probably only partly true or a lie, as she knows it has name recognition from when she was on TV, CBS News.

Incidentally, another terrific debate was the one on Somalia, with the three foreign editors, I saw on a re-cast one Sunday evening, one was French, one British, I forget the other one, and I appreciate Bruce asking the English one about who was going to pay for the big faire at Windsor Castle, after the Brit kept knocking the U. S. over Somali policy, or lack of it, and blaming us for all their ills.

Respectfully

Leviton, PA (1905)

Levittown PA 19057-3103

MLDCR #C8

Mr. BRIAN LAMB, Pres. C. E. O.
C- Span Networks
400 N. Capital St, N.W.
SUITE 650
WASH. D.C. (20001)

