Dear Brian,

After watching 1968 The Year The Legacy, I would like to share with you some thoughts about the traumatic events of the sixties. Please read the enclosed clip from Newsweek Magazine and note the quotation from Antonio Gramsci. To me, it offers a possible insight into the anti American rebellion of that time. I believe, that while government leaders were focused on the cold war abroad, they failed to recognize a well organized and well funded plan to invade the nation from within. It began with Dr. Spock's books on Child rearing that lead to a generation growing up without discipline at home. John Dewey introduced permissiveness into schools with his progressive education. These children learned no respect for Authority at home or at school. It was do whatever you want to do.

These children were in their teens when John Kennedy, Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King were assassinated. They were left shocked confused and vulnerable to being manipulated into the Anti American Counter Culture that was easily led in rebellion against government, moral standards, and the work ethic. The actions of some corrupt government officials gave reason to claim justification of this mindless destruction. The most distressing thing to me is the lack of effort to protect and defend society against what could only be termed an invasion when it first began. They seized the colleges and universities. They captured the media. Now with the election of Bill Clinton the Counter Culture is in power. Its purpose in the sixties was to defeat and destroy America and if the article in Newsweek Magazine is true, that hasn't changed.

Sincerely

ried an article in the August 1992 issue titled "Comrade Bill." The Times stated: "The story details Bill Clinton's contacts with members of the Communist and Socialist parties in Italy." Il Sabato reported that Governor Clinton told an Italian journalist: "I want to learn in Italy."

What Clinton wanted to learn in Italy was how the Italian communist and socialist parties managed the areas under their political control. Il Sabato reports that Clinton 'went among the Tuscan and Emilian communists, their workers' associations, their co-operatives, their co-op enterprises. . . . The year was 1987.'

"The perplexed Italian journalist asked again, 'You're not telling me that this is the economic recipe for the U.S.A.?' Responded Clinton, seriously: 'Absolutely yes.'"

Clinton's contacts with Italian Marxists were apparently pushed by his very close friend and top economic adviser, Derek Shearer (whose ultra leftist background was detailed in the September 9, and September 10, 1992 Wall Street Journal).

The Sunset Research Group's publication, *SECRET: FBI Documents Link Bill & Hillary Clinton to Marxist-Terrorist Network, reported that Derek Shearer's Economic Democracy program is based in part upon the work of the Italian communist leader Antonio Gramsci's ". . . plan to covertly introduce Marxist precepts into free societies."

Clinton's study course with Italian communists helped him observe Gramsci's principles close up. Gramsci ". . . argued that power is best attained in developed, industrialized countries through a gradual process of radicalization of the cultural institutions (the 'superstructure') of bourgeois society, a process that in turn would transform the values and morals of society. Gramsci believed that as society's morals were softened, so its political and economic foundation would be more easily smashed."

An example of how President Bill Clinton is following Gramsci's plan to destroy our social institutions can be seen in his appointment of Roberta Achtenberg as the nation's top fair-housing enforcer. She favors adding homosexuals as a protected class under the Federal Fair Housing Act (February 6, 1993 Washington Times). Achtenberg ". . . is known for her advocacy of 'alternative families,' especially lesbian parenthood."

The newspaper reported that Achtenberg is America's ". . . number one Boy Scout basher. Her
