Dear Sirs;

I'm so tired of being harped to by the "think tanks" blab, blab, blabs scattered all over Washington, D.C. that only deal in statistics that never work but the same way twice anyway, and then go on to prognosticate like an astrologist, and hit the mark about as often as they do; in order for me to buy their line.

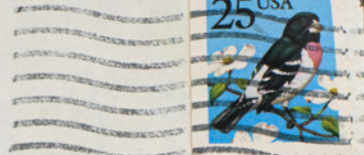

This is not Vietnam. Not stupid Mr Namara, sissy-bitches Bush, and martyrs burdened Johnson; so I'm sick of listening to the Vietnam paranoia.

Couldn't you manage to find an ordinary citizen for a change, and give them a chance to expound some good, old-fashioned common sense with the multitude of reasons they can see for being in the Mid-east? After all we aren't all stupid uninformed ignoramouses with no prior memory of experiences to go on to tell us a few things too.

Very sincerely

Bd. After all the public finally got fed up on that war from having to hear how many times our forces took Gork Chop Hill, and never attempted to secure it. Who wouldn't say "enough already"? Especially with the body bag count.
