

6/5/93

C. Span

Dear folks,

We just had cable reinstalled (we had it removed because my kids were watching programs I didn't approve of).

I haven't studied your network in depth, but I've been having a ball watching. I've watched miscellaneous programming. I did watch Congress debate the President's budget package. What I love is actually hearing what's said for myself, not getting a second bite plus interpretation of what occurred. You just show the event and leave conclusions up to the viewer. You don't treat your viewer as though they're stupid.

I'm conservative & appreciate your viewing the seminar by Accuracy in Media on Gay & Lesbian Issues. Even though your staff, apparently, wasn't in agreement, you still aired the show. Then I saw homosexuals on Memorial Day discussing homosexuals in the military.

Your network offers a great opportunity to hear a completed view versus getting bits and pieces. I'm really excited. Our views shouldn't be really spilt. Having "experts" interpret events really limits our decision making process.

Thank you,

[redacted]
Sterling, MA 01564

002594 JUN 993

March

from ROBERT FURBER'S
Twelve Months of Flowers
London, 1730

March is from a suite of 12 prints depicting arrangements of flowers that bloom in each month of the year. The suites, luxuriously engraved and hand-colored, were elegant seed catalogues for the select clientele of 18th century florist and seedsman Robert Furber.

From the collection of the Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation,
Carnegie Mellon University

*Julia Bell

PRINTED ON RECYCLED PAPER

Box 181, Newton, MA 02168
PRINTED IN AMERICA, W5

©MCMXCII, Julia Bell, Inc.
All rights reserved

Seeling, MA 01564

C-SPAN

400 N. Capitol, N.W. / Suite 650
Washington, D.C. 20001