Brian -

Gene Amore, who for many years was a fixture on Denver Radio and TV - and now does a column for the Denver Rocky Mountain News just did the enclosed on "books" -

Ann Schmidt and I worked at the old KMYR in Denver with Gene who along with another KMYR alum - Ed Koepke bought out the old KMYR equipment and put KOEN on the Air and later on FM created a first class classical music station KUOD -

Also Gene did "Amores Corner" on Channel 7 - won a Peabody Award and did specials on Ch. 2 -

O. BKTV

He is the most widely read columnist in Denver.

He shows your passion for reading books -

~~If~~ you haven't read it ~~I~~ recommend "The Man Who Once Was Whizzer White" written by Dennis Hutchinson, one of Whites former clerks, whose family were prominent lawyers in Boulder and who is now on the faculty of U. of Chicago Law School - His wife is a judge on the Sixth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals.
He did the book without Whites cooperation but he did a thorough job of research.

"Keep up the good work on Book Notes"

—Regards
