Dear C-Span,

The Republican rebellion Against Clinton, which started the day after he was elected, before he was even in office, is so obviously partisan, like a two year old's tantrum. The Republicans are too blind to take notice, that Republicans within their ranks were the chief reason Bush lost the election. The rank and file among them would much rather a Democrat President reap the harvest, sown by their eight glorious years of uninterrupted self indulgence.

Allowing the debt to go up where it is, shows irresponsibility on the part of every body concerned, is downright stupid. The petulance surrounding the President shows the mentality of a Monkey. Man and woman kind must be moving backward in the chain of evolution.
