Dear Cspan:

I can just about see the typewriter to write to you to voice my opinion of the guest you had on your show today about 8:40 A.M.

These people that claim that Mr. Clinton is a hero and should be honored for his stand against Vietnam should be hung up and shot, as he. They were traitors to their government whether right or wrong.

Secondly, I am a gold Star Mother whose son died in Vietnam in 1997. These people are trying to belittle the effort that was made on their behalf because they were in college at the time and were exempt from going. It was only the boys whose family didn't have the money to send them to school. Or in my sons case, went in the army to get credit points to go to school because he didn't want to place a burden on his father who would have willingly sent him to school.

Look at the 58,000 or so who died there, it was either young poor black or poor white. It was some who went through school in the ROTC program who know little of military life. It wasn't the middle class or rich.

I think it would be thoughtful if you would ask those people to think about the ones that are left behind who try to live their life without that one child that was alive and youthful and now does not have the chance they have to live out their life.

When the subject comes up I go through the grieving for my son all over again and the hate I feel for those protesters comes back full force. I resent their living. Granted they have a right to their opinion but so do I, and it is not very high for those people. They are trash in my opinion, which is what Clinton is, TRASH.

O.WJ

I don't expect an answer, but I would appreciate it if you would forward this letter to the fat white man. Let him throw it in the trash with the rest of his kind, because here is someone who thinks he is Trash, with a capital T.
