Dear Brian:

I DO enjoy C-Span. I watch Journalist's Roundtable regularly and have noticed that just recently, the Bush "Cheer leaders" are out again in force, trying to re-create the myth of Bush's popularity. I think the Nov. elections revealed once and for all, that Bush's popularity was a "MEDIA CREATED" myth, in the first place, along with the fact that Bush used his hired guns to do his dirty work. Now the media is doing the same thing with that draft-dodging idiot, Dan Quayle--portraying him as a military expert!!!

It is difficult to determine who is more anxious to get us into a war--Bush, Jim Baker or the Media. In my opinion, the evil people who are promoting the war are the ones who should put their contemptible bodies on the front lines!!!
