Dear C-Span—

Without your efforts during the past ten years, we could not look forward to the next ten. Through your open door, every individual has a view and a new perspective on the present; Perhaps the most historic for 'communitarian' efforts. To further the communication between like minds in the audience will result in greater works for humankind.

May I make one suggestion to speed up the process of information linking & exchange. Please have computers on every desk during discussion & debate. With our instantaneous access today, there is no reason why a witness or a skeptic cannot reference readily retrievable facts which are updated by the nano second.

Please take the quantum leap to get the world on line.
