Dear C-Span,

I watch C-Span for certain things and most of the time appreciate how your staff conducts interviews, calls, round tables. I write at this time to register my problems with your guests on #650 3/25 - Paul Rodriguez, Michael Deffy and Kathy Kiely. I am getting more and more disillusioned and disgusted with the "media" - national, top networks and newspapers. I speak particularly about the way Whitewater has become a feeding frenzy for bloodthirsty (money hungry?) reporters - the employees of media conglomerates. We need reporters to scrutinize, analyze, rationalize on the work of you writers, reporters, critics, etc. The arrogance was blatantly apparent in your guests. At least 4 callers expressed my opinion about the unfairness and lack of objectivity not to mention self-serving in your reporting on Whitewater.

When your guests heard these callers accusations, they simply smiled and said, "I don't agree" or "I don't think so!" and then your host said, "Next caller!" You let them off the hook as they let themselves off the hook.

Is it not apparent that a lot of us are not wanting to blow up this story? I have turned out all but a few "respected" reporters such as Bill Schneider.
The Republicans must be full of glee with the way the media is hopping on their every rumor and whisper.

Kindly pass on a copy of this to your guests mentioned in my letter.
Thank you. Respectfully,
