C-span

attention: Mr. Lamb

I am a 72 year old C-span junkie and have tried repeatedly to reach you by phone. Would you please consider a couple of suggestions?

First and foremost I wish you would have people on your program from the general public - other than reporters or politicians. What is coming through are primarily views of well educated, employed and presumably higher income people. Not many know what it's like to live on small incomes. They are not focusing on the lives of fifteen million or more of our citizens.

Second I understand that Japan will be spending in the area of 100 billion on their stimulus program and America (meaning the Republicans) want even more on 16 billion. I thought we were a country ruled by majority rule?

Thank you
Mrs. [redacted]
