Hi. C-Span.

As you no I'm a C-Span junky. and proud of it.

Well, I come across these items in the Cincinnati Post.

I thought of C-Span crew. And the people who works on the call-in programs. Such as Mr Brain Lamb, and Susan, and John, and the others. But I don't remember they're names. All are great people I think. So I thought its time you had a little laugh, or smile. So I'm sending these items to you. You deserve it. Keep the good work up. A. C-Span's friend.

JERRY GALVIN'S WORLD

Duty free?

They bought it as a joke and now everyone who sees it wants one too. Jeannine and Dan Murphy just returned from a little European traveling. In Ireland they purchased a wall hanging titled, "A Mother's Letter." It reads:

Dear Son: Just a few lines to let you know that I am still alive. I am writing this slowly because I know that you can't read fast. You won't know the house when you come home, we've moved.

About your father, he has a lovely new job. He has 500 men under him, he cuts grass at the cemetery. Your sister Mary had a baby this morning. I haven't found out yet whether it's a boy or a girl, so I don't know if you're an aunt or an uncle.

I went to the doctor's on Thursday and your father came with me. The doctor put a small tube in my mouth and told me not to talk for 10 minutes. Your father offered to buy it from him.

Your uncle Patrick drowned last week in a vat of Irish whiskey at the Dublin brewery. Some of his workmates tried to save him but he fought them off bravely. They cremated him and it took three days to put the fire out.

It only rained twice this week, first for three days and then for four days. We had a letter from the undertaker. He said if the last payment on your grandmother's plot wasn't paid in seven days, she comes up.

Your Loving Mother.

P.S. I was going to send you five pounds but I have already sealed the envelope.
