

It's shocking to hear these red-necked bozos admit they've been waiting for days if not hours to get their shot at Clinton.

They are obviously well off, and time means nothing, but to wait with their phones for hours and glued to the tube. We hear such vindictiveness and hatred.

Democrats on the other hand can't afford to wait days or even hours to get their point across. They usually do work for a living, and the DNC doesn't pick up the cost as the RNC does for those they select to demonize the President.
It's a put up, plain and simple and you know that. In fact we recognize the same voices.
