SPECTATOR Editorial
Board Meeting - C-SPAN

You white male conservatives are living in the past - we are facing the 21st Century - Wake up!

It was so sad to listen to you on C-Span,
with the token lady,
talking about your agenda. It was funny and sad at the same time.

Your problem is the resentment and envy
that you have for our President. This is personal as much as anything else.
You hate the diversity
philosophy that is the center of his soul.

By the way, Clarence Thomas the Long Dong Silver of the Supreme Court is "the lowest of lows"

He is not unique as far as having to go thru hell as a Black male to "get ahead."

He used the system well. He depended on affirmative action and relied on the success of the liberals in opening doors and then tries to close the doors that the liberals opened and ~~that~~ he walked thru.

He is a conservative because the "line was short". He sold his birth right for a black robe. If anyone, including Bush thought he was qualified they lied and didn't look behind the blackness and the place he came from. We are now stuck with a sexual harasser on the bench. SAD!! Get off the backs of minorities and women.
