I am enjoying the programs about the President^s so much. I have ordered a shirt with all of their names.

ABraham Lincoln is coming up. Wonderful. I look forward to those presidents who do not have the slavery issue in their story. I am tired of Afro Americans calling in frequently to criticize these presidents. They all had admirable qualities other than this.

John Wilkes Booth is buried in Greenmount Cemetary near where I live, with some of his relatives too I believe. I would like to visit there(historically interesting)but it is in the middle of an Afro American neighborhood which has a less than perfect reputation and I am afraid.

I love the series. [REDACTED]

I look forward to the remaining programs.
