

Dear Friends,

Your journal show could do a lot better if you would give more attention to the people that call in. If they are intelligent, well read, and have a lot of common sense interview them when you realize they have these qualities. Let them talk.

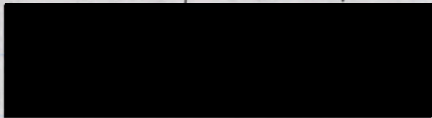

I am sick of the journalists because they are boring. But when you let the callers talk and ask them questions I find that is so interesting and don't like it when you cut a viewer short who has information and creative ideas that make this show interesting. Interview the callers at length. I am sick of listening to the journalists who are boring. I love listening to the callers and would love to have them interviewed and given time to express their ideas and information. ~~When~~ someone who definitely has creative ideas and information ^{ca/15} let them have an hour long interview. That would be so interesting. You would make your shows so much more interesting if you let the callers talk, I love listening to them and you keep cutting them off when I couldn't wait to hear what else they had to say, And why should the journalists have the last say, The callers ought to be allowed to express whether they agree or disagree with the journalists' answers,

I hope you will listen to me and I know if you would interview the callers a lot of people would agree with me about the callers being more interesting than the journalists,

Your interviewer just cut short a very interesting caller, which really irritated me since he was saying so many interesting things,

Sincerely and hopefully,
