Dear C-Span,

Just a note to thank you for some outstanding programs. I especially enjoyed the talk and analysis of the Robert Graves memoir, "Goodbye to all that". It was excellent. The tour of the white House with William Seale and the tour of Monticello were also excellent and very enjoyable.

Book Notes is still my favorite. I am looking forward to the John Lewis conversation coming up this Sunday evening.

Is there anything that viewers can do to insure that we keep getting C-Span? I know

Brian Lamb testified at Congressional hearing this week that changes in Federal law might put C. Span in jeopardy.

Is there a need for letters or phone calls to Congress about this?

It would be a real tragedy if there were no access to this fine programming.

Sincerely.
