Dear Brian -

This morning, Mrs. Cox ("Formerly" ? of New Haven) once again managed to get through to the Washington Journal - for the 4th time in two weeks!!! I have been keeping track of this woman's calls for well over a year now + she blatantly ignores the 30-day rule -

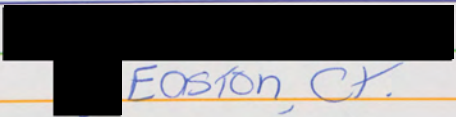

She has a very distinctive voice - enunciates each word - She always briefly reads the headline of an article, then proceeds to say "But let me just say this" - or "But what really interests me" - + then proceeds to bash the Republicans and/or praise the President. She used to say she was from New Haven. Now, it appears she moves around as she gives a different city or state each call.

I truly appreciate C-Span + it's contribution to the public interest - However, this woman is totally annoying, never contributes anything to the discussion, + always manages to get through - (This morning was the last straw!)

Could your screeners possibly do anything about this situation - ?

Any effort would be greatly appreciated -

Once again, thank you so much for all you do!
