

Mon. Sept. 27

Dear Mr. Lamb,

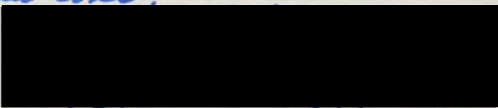

The Journalists segment this morning was among your greatest programs.

The two men were superb. I was surprised at Chris Matthews' candor, and relished his immediate reply to the callers-in.

How refreshing to hear journalists who don't stumble around, evade answers or take off on tangent, unconnected points.

I also really enjoyed to the TV.

I wish these two could be on regularly. We need journalists who speak out and have logic in their statements and know their history. Congratulations, Brian.
