

[REDACTED]
Baltimore, MD 21215
November 19, 1993

Mr. Brian Lamb
C-Span
400 N. Capitol St. N.W.
Suite 650
Washington, D.C. 20001

Dear Brian Lamb:

Thank you for your stimulating program.

I would like to request your interviewing the author of a new book. He is Fred E. Katz, Professor of Sociology, who has taught at Johns Hopkins University and at universities in the U.S. and Israel.

The book is Ordinary People and Extraordinary Evil, A Report on the Beguilings Of Evil. Professor Katz is a Holocaust survivor. He brings, by the education of his life, a singular approach to his subject by the scientific processes of sociology,- a view, not only of the Holocaust, but a much larger view of society today, and of ways of hope and progress.

I met Professor Katz at his appearance at his book-signing. I had the opportunity to speak with him for a while. I believe that you, Brian Lamb, and your audience would enjoy the pleasure of an interview with him.

Professor Katz resides in Baltimore now. His phone number is [REDACTED]. Thank you for your consideration. The publisher of his book is the State University of New York Press.

Sincerely,
[REDACTED]

Baltimore, MD 21215

Journey to a
New Frontier Collection

Mr. Brian Lamb
C-Span
400 N. Capitol St. N.W.
Suite 350
Washington, D.C. 20001

1 1111

