Subject: WWII Memorial

It is little wonder that the nation is cracking at the seams when on the one hand we are told that it is and on the other debate the use of millions of dollars to build one more monument!

Please just shut-up and acknowledge that a wonderful memorial already exists in most of the libraries of the country - There are huge volumes with great detail which have hardly been cracked! Use of these would be far more appropriate than the waste of money and the destruction of one of the last open spaces on the map!

I looked at the material mailed to me about this proposal and listed it along with the attitudes of this generation about credit cards as well as the stupidity of our laws governing bankruptcy! Until we grasp the meaning of "living within one's income" personally and nationally our demise seems certain. But back to the memorial. If funds have been collected "from private sources" I would suggest that some of the off-spring of those whose lives were harmed would welcome help since most of them will never have the opportunity to tramp around D.C. cluttering the beautiful city we have loved - Your programs provide the best source of information available to most of us - Thank you.
