Dear Mr. Lamb;

My wife and I look forward to your Booknotes Program every week. It really is one of the big events of the week to us.

On Saturday, March 6, 1999 Mr. Charles Philip Corr gave a talk to the Macon Writers' Club about his new book "The Scents of Eden. The book is about the Spice Islands and the spice trade. I'm enclosing copies of the remarks made by different people and organizations. The talk was excellent and the subject would be very appropriate for "Booknotes."

It is an unusual book and Mr. Corr is a very good and personable speaker.
