Dear C-Span:

Today's morning program with Reps. Ensign & Levin did it! Got me to put pen to paper to express my dissatisfaction with your allowing them to contaminate your reputation for providing the public with usable information and insight. Two hours of bumper sticker / sound bite expressions of party line contradictions repeated and repeated ad nauseam.

Several weeks ago when you had open phones inviting critiques of your morning program format, I tried to get through to ask that you never again have representatives of the major political parties, elected or not, on your morning shows. I gave up when another caller got through with the same request. I guess there weren't enough of us to impress your producers, otherwise today's over

travesty of an informational program would not have happened.

Stick with journalists, authors and objective experts in other fields of public interest.

Why didn't I follow Brian Lamb's advice and tune it out? Because I kept hoping that callers and the moderator would get those talker heads off the subject of Medicare & Medicaid. No such luck.

Also, I want to echo the request of the caller who asked that you never have Ralph Hollow on your channel ever again. He was just obnoxious.

Other than these two complaints
I have only the highest praise for C-Span I + II

Sincerely,
