news Director

Due to all the political activity of recent days, we have spent more time than usual watching news & various talk programs. Recently we watched C-Span in late evening & we are dismayed at the imbalance of political viewpoints by guests on the program. We can mention 2 in particular, a lawyer named ~~KRA~~ KAUS. who was promoting a book & a journalist of TIME magazine, both of whom were very pro Clinton democrat & anti Bush. Kaus said!! all the media was pro Clinton,

& when asked by the host WHY?? Kaus said, the media wanted change, new stories to ~~write~~ about & excitement. My question to you is? who decides what is to be shown, & who decides on the guests invited & why is it that the TV & print media are all of one mind (listen to the anchors on all stations spew their hatred for Bush) & are not willing to present both sides.

Why are you taking sides period? your job is merely to report events not to shape them. I dare you to ~~put~~ take the lead & put on some Republicans to promote Bush & denounce CLINTON for what he is in truth.

In fairness to the station, your host Aug 20 10-11pm. that evening was very impartial in handling guests & callers.

We are rapidly reaching the point where it is painful to us to listen to the news because of the distorted presentation by all news programs.

It appears that all news depts are out to get Bush out of the white House at all costs (since when has the media the right to pick the next President of these United States) it has become almost a vendetta against everything conservative & Republican.

Why, why, all this hatred?

Please try & set an example in fairness.

Thank You
