Dear Ms :

I was getting ready to watch Booknotes last night (Sunday) on C-Span. As usual they announced the schedule for the next week and as usual I felt the anger that I always feel because I cannot receive C-Span after 5 p.m.(C-Span 1).

So in the evening as I remote control through your programming which consists of music videos, baseball, fitness shows and the new addition of full time CNBC which I find is a total waste of air time I lament the fact that I cannot receive C-Span 1. Tonight there is a live viewer call in show with Sen. Danforth with questions directed towards Clarence Thomas' Supreme Court nomination, but I will see someone painting a picture of flowers, or jumping on a trampoline.

I guess I should be happy that you allow Booknotes on Sunday night. I'm always nervous that you will end C-Span at 5 p.m. on Sunday and substitute it with another music video show...please don't do that.

Sincerely,

cc: C-Span
