Mr. Brian Lamb, President
C-SPAN Networks
Suite 650 400 North Capitol
Washington, D.C. 20001

Dear Brian:

As a C-SPAN junkie I feel it is all right to address you as Brian, even when voicing a strong complaint. C-SPAN performs such magnificent service to our democracy, and it is so empowering to be able to see and judge as a free citizen of our wonderful land that beyond any complaint there is THANKS.

I recognize that you may decide to cover a meeting or group before you know who the featured speakers will be. Therefore, it seemed okay (if odd) that the recent anti-HUMAN diatribe from Ted Turner and Hanoi Jane was televised in full. What seemed totally inappropriate to me is that it was RE-BROADCAST so often. There must be environmental groups (even very far out and ANTI-HUMAN ones) who do not have a multi-channel cable hook-up at their disposal as Mr. Turner and his eminence grise most certainly do. If you are going to donate time to anti-HUMAN causes, please train your cameras and network on those who have limited access to cable technology.

Again, I very much appreciate C-SPAN and the access it gives me to the "marketplace of ideas", even some with which I profoundly disagree. It was not the ideas (or the totally monstrous hypocrisy and hybris) of "Ted and Jane." It was (and is) the injustice of using the limited resources of C-SPAN by persons who have lavish access to cable, broadcast, print and film media.

Yours truly,
