C-SPAN - STEVEN LAMB

It's widely accepted that homosexuals have been serving this country, for years, in areas of military, FBI, and Government. It's also widely accepted as foolish to allow any able bodied American to avoid their share of the burden of War.

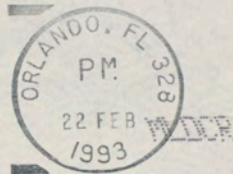

I am an Honorably Discharged, enlisted Veteran of WWII and served honorably in two Reserve Units. I am 72 years old and have nine grandchildren and 4 great-grand children and I find it painfully unfair that any of them might be faced with war and death while others may avoid or evade their responsibility by saying that they are homosexuals.

Guys have fought, lost limbs and died while serving their country over the years and should always be expected to answer the call if our free America should need any of its citizens to help preserve freedom.

Sincerely Yours,
