Re: Friday's Press Guests (5-28-93)
John Palmer - Robin Toner <sup>and</sup> Myron Waldman.

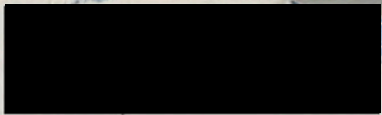

The responses made by the above to the public's questions at times did not exceed the kindergarten level. One most prominent was Myron Waldman - in his statement when he tried to equate President Bush's illness in Tokyo to that of Clinton's dismal flip-flopping -

Having guests of this quality as "possible experts" on every day events - one can understand why the television audience is down to 62% -

I suggest you interview your guests on the subject being discussed - as to their "real" knowledge based on facts and not suppositions
