

Brian Lamb..

What is going on with you, anyway..First you start with separating the phone lines so your ilk can get in with their whining and bashing decent people that do not agree with them..we are referring to your democrat pals. Now here you are, lecturing to the audience... as if you are our teacher(like your idol, Slick Willie) telling us to read our paper, make sure we talk about what YOU want us to talk about. What next, will you give us homework and you will grade it?? You , Sir, are, maybe getting bonkers from all these years trying to hide your true feelings and political ideology (liberal democrat).

You lied to us about getting rid of that censoring 3 lines, promising to eliminate them after the election.. You lied to us like your idol...you need brain surgery..
