Mr. President,

I abhor the lewd stage acts of music, dance, and monologue performed by the gays and lesbians on the streets of our capital this past week-end.

Washington, DC, our beautiful capital, should be a place where citizens show respect. But instead, it was a vulgar, crass, and sinful display from a bunch of crude and disrespectful people.

In the short time I had my TV on, I saw two performances which, to say the least, were completely vulgar. They took place at around 2:30 - 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Bill Clinton - 2

The first of the two performances I viewed was a black woman (normally I would say "lady," but a lady she was not) who was grossly overweight singing, strumming a guitar, and moving her body to the beat. The words she kept repeating were "Do you want to f--- with me?" Apparently that was the the name of her song.

The second performance I noticed was a slender, rather homely, white woman dressed in a skimpy outfit who pranced around on stage and identified herself as a lesbian lawyer. Most anyone would doubt the validity of her being a lawyer, or having very much education at all, as her language was strictly of the gutter type. She was a speaker/comedian(?) who told her fellow lesbians in the audience to never have sex with a straight woman as, according to her, it takes too long. She must have done <sup>just</sup> that as she crudely stuck her tongue out, flicked it rapidly back and forth, and began talking as if her tongue had been burred or was very sore.

Mr. Bill Clinton - 3

Mr. President, you probably saw all this on TV, but in case you missed it, I thought I would fill you in on just how low our Country has stooped to allow such vulgarity to be presented on national TV on a Sunday afternoon - a time when very young Children are home and can view it.

As a Christian, I feel this public display by gays and lesbians, and their lifestyle in general, is an abomination before God.

Sincerely,
