To whom it concerns:

On Book Notes II broadcasted live Sunday, the 6th, your host/interviewer Ms. Connie Brode announced to the viewer(s) that a new three-hours format was innitaited with the guest/author Mr. John Lukacs. She invited comments from the viewing public pertaining to this new approach.

Be advised that our opinion is in the positive and found that the added duration provides an ability to allow greater depth to the interview, thusly providing the guest to more historical data and explanation on the research done and reasons to create the literature. Stick with it. Thanks.

Cordially, [REDACTED]

P.S. Inform Ms. Brode that she's looking Marvelous!
