You guys do a great job. "Booknotes" is often of interest to me. I'd like to suggest, though, that it's repeat be at a more convenient time, rather than so early on Monday morning. Maybe 8-9-10 PM sometime mid-week...maybe. It's the only program of it's type on C-SPAN, I'll bet it's popular, but if it's missed Sunday eve, it's tough to watch the current replay.

Once again "the networks" failed completely to foresee the Nicaragua election outcome. Their ability to analyze opinion polls could use some attention. Maybe Bob Novak was the only one to give Chimora a chance.

Best regards,
